

Salvis now on the move on social networks

Pinterest - images say more than 1000 words

Oftringen, Switzerland, 20 September 2016 The entire Salvis smart cooking world now in images too

For more than 100 years we have been developing and producing innovative, high-quality thermal cooking systems for chefs the world over. Satisfied customers are the basis of our success.

The world is becoming increasingly more global and colourful - imagery facilitates communication. Chefs, executive chefs and directors - you can now network, because the kitchen is no longer restricted to your own four walls. Creativity knows no boundaries.

Do you want to be inspired? Well-known chefs, fine concepts, perfect cooking solutions or image feedback from our successful seminars in Europe and around the world can now be found on Pinterest. Follow us on www.pinterest.com/salvisag to take a look behind the scenes.

Stay informed - no matter where a new kitchen opens up in the world, an interesting smart cooking fun workshop takes place or a new product comes out. Global becomes regional.
